Presented by Mrs. Esther Schwartz

Mrs. Esther Schwartz is a professional educator and curriculum developer with 37 years of experience in teaching, especially in American, Global, and Jewish history. Her colorful career has included classroom instruction, assistant principal, head of student religious mentoring, and curriculum development. She recently began mentoring other teachers in how to teach history through critical thinking, not through memorizing endless dates and names. Her unique methodology is culled from years of experience and research.
