
COURSE OUTLINE

1

SETTING THE FOUNDATIONS

This lecture prepares the teacher for the first day of school. It provides a strategy for how to walk in and convey positive energy and fairness while at the same time asserting authority. The teacher is given sample introductory greetings, as well as what to expect the first day.

REWARDS SYSTEM

This workshop explains the need and benefits of an official reward system. It provides sample systems that are tried and tested, but leaves room for personalizing and adapting to the class' individual needs. Additionally, the need to offer verbal recognition and compliments is underscored.

DISCIPLINARY SYSTEM

At times it is imperative to correct lack of decorum or misbehavior in the classroom setting. In this workshop, teachers are taught to enact a system of punishments at the start of the year rather than make up punitive measures on the fly. They will learn how responding calmly and quietly will be more effective than responding angrily and forcibly.

COMMON CLASSROOM SCENARIOS

This workshop goes through a wide variety of common classroom scenarios, such as the defiant or disrespectful student, talking during class, and sudden, loud commotions. Teachers are offered different strategies for dealing with the situation, as well as examples of cool and calm responses that can help diffuse tension and quickly return order to the classroom.

THE CHALLENGED STUDENT

Students are not one-size-fits-all. Some students struggle with behavioral or learning challenges. This workshop empowers teachers to recognize a student's challenges and relate to students on an individual basis. Teachers are also taught effective communication techniques to help them correct misbehavior without putting a student on the defense.

A TEACHER'S RESPONSIBILITIES

This workshop covers many topics relating to a teacher's responsibilities, such as communication with parents, report cards, tests, and compliance with school bylaws. Teachers are taught how to conduct themselves in a professional manner that is above reproach.
